

December 12, 2020

In the midst of the challenges this year we are grateful and appreciative of the many blessings that are no longer taken for granted. ECTLC has experienced many changes in our day to day activities and methods of conducting our ministry. We have learned how to home-school our children, safely eat our meals, conduct our classes and Bible studies with appropriate social distancing, and how to be grateful for the grace God has given us in keeping us well and safe.

The support we have received from our friends, donors, and community leaders has been overwhelming and has allowed us to assist the hundreds of men, women, and children that have come to ECTLC for services in the past year. We are truly grateful!!!

This year, more than ever, we have needed to rely on your help. Many of the business partners that provided us with income have closed or slowed their labor needs, many of our employed disciples have been laid off, and there was a time when our intake numbers dropped considerably. We look forward to the New Year with hope and faith that this too shall pass.

We are asking you to do what you can, in sending your year-end gift, to help us continue to assist those seeking to make better choices. We are preparing to add additional rooms to our family programs to meet the needs of all those who may be facing evictions and job losses. We anticipate that we will be adding 40 families with approximately 120 children who will need services. We cannot do this without your help.

All of us at ECTLC wish you a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. We appreciate all your gifts, donations, prayers and love.

Sincerely,
